

We are exploring the potential for a new wind farm on Welsh Government Woodland Estate managed by Natural Resources Wales, north east of Port Talbot. The project is classed as a Development of National Significance and could have a generating capacity of over 170MW.

This scheme would deliver enough clean energy to power over 125,000 homes* - equivalent to nearly all households within Neath Port Talbot and Bridgend combined - and go a long way in contributing to our carbon reduction targets.

* $26 \times 6.6\text{MW} \times 8760\text{hrs/yr} \times 30\% \text{ load factor} = 450,964.8 \text{ MWh/yr}$; divided by average household consumption $3578\text{kWh/yr} = 126,038 \text{ homes}$. (BEIS statistics/RenewableUK Wind Energy Statistics)

Reference: NPTCBC + BCBC = 125,131 households (statswales.gov.wales: Households by Local Authority and Year)

Project Overview

The proposed wind farm is located within two forestry blocks which fall largely within Neath Port Talbot County Borough, but do stretch, in parts, into Bridgend County Borough. The Afan Valley and Neath lie to the west, with the Llynfi Valley and Maesteg to the east.

Whilst the design of the proposed wind farm will be refined as we consult with local communities and stakeholders through the pre-application process, at this initial stage, the Project is currently envisaged to comprise up to 26 turbines, along with associated infrastructure such as a battery storage facility, onsite sub station and access tracks.

Further detailed information can be found on the project website.

Pre-application public consultation – involving you

This project is deemed a Development of National Significance, meaning that we will need to apply to the Planning Inspectorate Wales, which will make a recommendation to Welsh Ministers with whom lies the final decision on whether or not to grant planning permission.

We are still at a very early stage in the development of our proposals, and will be undertaking a number of phases of consultation prior to submitting an application for the Project.

We'd like to invite you take part in the first stage of consultation on the early proposals. We've arranged a number of public drop in sessions and an online virtual exhibition to provide you with information about the proposals and seek your feedback.

These face to face and virtual events will provide an overview of the project proposals; the environmental impact assessment, development and construction processes; as well as how an industry leading 'Community Benefit Fund' and innovative 'Community Shared Ownership' proposals, together with local supply chain opportunities, will seek to secure a lasting legacy.

Feedback can be provided in a number of ways, including at the public / virtual events, via email, freepost, or through using the online form on the project website.

Further details about the consultation events are overleaf.
